

KPHRA 2014 FALL WORKSHOP

ELIZABETHTOWN September 11, 2014

Please join KPHRA for our one-day Fall Workshop on September 11, 2014 at the Holiday Inn Express located at 107 Buffalo Creek in Elizabethtown, Kentucky.

Engaging Public Sector Employees by Maggie Frye

There is now 5 (yes 5!) generations working together in today's workforce. We're also living in a world where more than 70% of employees are not engaged in their roles within your organizations (Gallup). Add on to that an age-old approach to leadership development that's broken, substantial skills gaps, and workforce planning and succession woes. Couple this with the unique challenges that come along with working in public sector such as budgets, politics, budgets, public scrutiny, budgets, red tape, budgets, documentation, and budgets.

The good news is there's light at the end of this gloomy tunnel. You CAN fully engage your workforce, and without breaking the bank. During this interactive workshop, you will learn strategies for creating a highly engaged workforce and will begin designing an employee engagement strategy for your organization.
